

Do you know what your kids are receiving on their phone? Information for all parents.

A growing number of youth are being sent and exposed to pornographic content via text and social media. Some of this information is from other kids their age and often comes without the parents knowledge. It is absolutely essential that as a parent you stay aware of the content your children are viewing online.

There are a variety of ways to learn about the dangers and stay informed on constant, changing trends in the online world that affect children IRL (in real life).

Learn about content that they're exposed to, what the hidden meaning of emoji's are, and how hashtags are used to target children. Learn how to monitor your children's online activity and see who exactly they're communicating with.

Some of the dangers include:

- Exposure to Pornography
- Sexual Content Between Kids
- Communication with Predators
- Lack of Self-Esteem
- Bullying
- Anxiety and Depression
- Anger
- Hiding or Encrpyting Communication

For more information, scan the QR code above.

Family Advocacy Program
(910) 396-5521

24/7 Family Abuse Hotline
(910) 322-3418